

ELECTION RESULTS.

The Returns Show a Strongly Accelerated Reversal
Of the Popular Verdict of Two Years Ago
—The Lower House of the Next Congress Will Have a "Brutal" Republican Majority.

Illinois Republican by Ninety Thousand—Cullom's Re-Election Assured.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Late returns show that the republicans have elected their state ticket by a plurality of at least 90,000. Cook county goes republican by a majority of 10,000. The new legislature will be republican in both branches by a majority of from 25 to 40 on joint ballot. This practically insures the re-election of Cullom to the United States senate.

For congress the republicans have captured twenty and possibly twenty-one of the twenty-two districts. In the sixteenth district P. D. Downing, dem., defeated Gen. J. I. Kinkaid, rep., by a small majority. The third district is still in doubt, and the result will not be definitely known until the official count is made. The returns from five precincts in this district are missing. The incomplete returns of Belknap, dem., 160 majority over McGinnis, rep., as the missing precincts are strongly democratic, it is possible that McGinnis may pull through.

Not a Plank to Stand On in West Virginia.
WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 8.—The democrats haven't saved a plank from the wreck in West Virginia. Returns compiled from nonpartisan sources show that the state senate will be a tie and the republicans will have a majority of 19 in the next house of delegates, making possible the passage of bills restricting the state so that the democrats will not gain the ascendancy for years. These returns are official with one or two exceptions, and a republican senate will certainly succeed Senator Mansden.

The total of republican majorities in the four districts is over 9,000. William J. Wilson is defeated by over 2,000 in the second district. This return is official, except from three small counties that are estimated, and the result will not be changed 100 votes by the later figures. The republicans carried the first district by over 3,500, electing E. B. Dovenor; the third by 2,500, electing James H. Huling; the fourth by 2,000, electing Warren Miller.

Congratulatory Telegrams.
ELLENBURG, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Gov.-elect Morton continues to receive congratulations on his victory yesterday. From the west the following remembrances were especially gratifying to Mr. Morton:

DEBURE, Ill.—Accept hearty congratulations upon your great victory.
[Signed] W. B. ALBISON, W. B. ALBISON.

ST. PAUL, Minn.—I am inexpressibly delighted by the result in New York. She has nobly atoned for the wrong she did to you at Minneapolis. I congratulate you with all my heart.
[Signed] JOHN C. SPOONER.

CHICAGO: The National Republican League congratulates you and rejoices with the loyal republicans and civilization democrats of New York.
[Signed] ANDREW B. HUMPHREY.

Sentinel Shoup Likely to Succeed Himself.
BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 7.—Definite returns come in slowly. The republican state committee is satisfied that the entire republican state and congressional tickets are elected. The legislature will be republican. Out of fifty-four in both houses the republicans will have thirty-one at least, and present indications are that this plurality will be increased.

Sentinel Shoup is in the field to succeed himself, and, as he is one of the most popular men in the state, and as his services in the Senate have been satisfactory, he will probably be elected. He has a large following in the state.

State Ticket, Legislature and Congressmen in Wisconsin Republican.
MILWAUKEE, Nov. 8.—Wisconsin gives a republican plurality of 40,000 on the state ticket. Both houses of the legislature have been carried by republicans. The senate will have a republican majority of seven and the assembly stands eighty-two republicans and seventeen democrats, with one district, Shawano county, in doubt. Nine republican congressmen have been elected. The second district is still in doubt, but probably Samspring, rep., is elected by a small plurality, making a solid republican delegation in congress.

Kentucky Elects Five Republican and Six Democratic Congressmen.
LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 8.—Later returns from the election in Kentucky cause further surprise and show that the landslide struck this state with greater force than even the republicans believed possible. The congressional delegation will stand as indicated in dispatches to the United Press. Tuesday night—6 democrats and 5 republicans—but the republicans get the fifth member by carrying the third instead of the seventh district.

Senator Washburn's Successor Will Be Senator Washburn.
ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 8.—Pretty complete returns from the eighty counties of Minnesota show that Nelson, rep., has carried the state by 20,000.

The democratic-populist fusion on Willie for justice of the supreme court also failed. Collins, rep., being elected by a majority of 20,000. The republicans elect all of the seven congressmen. The legislature on joint ballot stands: Republicans 139, democrats and populists 38. This insures the re-election of Senator Washburn.

A Gain of Nine Members from Pennsylvania.
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—Kirkpatrick, rep., defeats Hart, dem., in the eighth congressional district by 300 majority.

Complete returns have now been received from every congressional district in the state, and the result is that the democrats will have but one of the thirty representatives from this state in the next house. The lonely democrat is Erdman of the ninth district, who is re-elected by a majority of 2,350. His majority in 1892 was 10,958. In the last house the democrats had ten members from Pennsylvania.

A Solid Congressional Delegation from Michigan.
DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 8.—The latest Michigan returns show that Kitch's plurality for governor will exceed 50,000, and that the entire congressional delegation are elected by majorities ranging from 3,000 to 10,000. The legislature will be republican by a large majority. Only in three counties did Fisher, democratic nominee for governor, receive a plurality, and in those it was very small.

Ungrateful Office-Holders.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 8.—One of the peculiar things about the election in this state Tuesday is the fact that the democratic counties which have secured the largest share of the federal offices have gone republican.

It is noticeable also that the precinct in Howard county in which Senator Gorman resides and votes gave a republican majority for the first time in a quarter of a century.

The Return of Senator Wolcott Assured.
DENVER, Col., Nov. 8.—Returns very complete at 6 o'clock last evening. They place McIntyre's majority at 20,000; Shafroth's, 14,400; Bowen, whom the republicans admitted would be defeated, has 1,700 majority.

There will be a republican majority of 17 on joint ballot in the state legislature, insuring the return of Senator E. O. Wolcott.

A Republican Senator Will Succeed Senator Anderson, of Nebraska.
OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 8.—As near as can be estimated, the republicans in the state legislature will have 91 out of the 133 votes. They will have a majority in every case, which means the election of a republican to succeed Senator Anderson in the United States senate.

The Result in Washington Undecided.
SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 7.—Returns are still incomplete, but it is generally conceded that Hyde and Doolittle, rep., for congress, are elected by greatly reduced majorities from two years ago. Both republican supreme court judges, Gordon and Dunsman, are probably elected. The result in the legislature is undecided.

Seven Congressmen from Kansas.
TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 7.—The total vote in Kansas is about 290,000, although the accurate returns will not be known for several days. The republican state ticket has polled about 146,000 votes, the populists 114,000, democrats, 24,000, and prohibitionists 6,000. Republicans have elected seven congressmen.

Iowa Will Send a Solid Delegation to Congress.
DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 8.—The latest returns show a republican plurality of 75,000, the election of the entire state republican ticket, and a republican delegation to congress. George M. Curtis, rep., in the second district, defeats W. L. Hayes, dem., and candidate for re-election, by 500 plurality.

Mississippi's Seven Democratic Congressmen Elected.
JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 8.—Later returns confirm early reports that all of Mississippi's seven democratic congressmen were elected. Denny, in the sixth district, had the closest race. The populists have made wonderful gains over the last election.

Best Fusion in North Dakota.
BISMARCK, N. D., Nov. 8.—The republicans have carried almost every county in this state, and for governor by about 12,000. Congressman Johnson has 2,000 more than Blair, the populist. Democrats and populists combined only got twenty-two members of the legislature.

A Clean Sweep in Massachusetts.
BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 8.—The republican ticket has carried upwards of 90,000, capturing both branches of the legislature. They carry every one of the thirteen congressional districts by pluralities ranging from 400 to the figures by which Holman is defeated, to 12,000.

The City Vote of Brooklyn.
BROOKLYN, Nov. 8.—The entire republican ticket is elected by a plurality ranging from 29,000 to 30,000. The vote was against consolidation with New York by about 2,000, and the appointment was lost by about the same vote.

The Old Day State Overwhelmingly Republican.
BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 7.—Greenhalge's plurality in Massachusetts is nearly 70,000. All of the republican candidates for congress were chosen except in the ninth district, where Fitzgerald, dem., has 2,300 plurality. The legislature is overwhelmingly republican.

The Vote of New York City for Governor.
NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The following is the total vote of New York city for governor: Hill, democrat, 128,544; Morton, republican, 123,750; Wheeler, democrat, 878; Matthews, people's party, 1,500; Martineau, socialist, labor, 4,377; Baldwin, prohibition, 553.

Legislature Overwhelmingly Republican and Both Congressmen Elected.
PIERCE, S. D., Nov. 8.—Sheldon, rep., is elected governor by not less than 9,000 plurality. Both republican candidates for congress are elected and the legislature is overwhelmingly republican.

Montana Will Have Two Republican Senators.
BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 8.—The latest returns indicate that the republicans will have a majority on joint ballot in the legislature. This insures the election of two republican United States senators.

A Republican Governor for Tennessee.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 8.—The returns from Tennessee indicate that Henry Clay Evans, rep., has been elected governor, over Peter Turner, dem., the present incumbent, together with three, and possibly four, congressmen.

The Plurality in Ohio.
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 8.—The returns now show that the republican plurality in Ohio is about 125,000. The republicans have elected 19 of the 21 congressmen beyond a doubt, and probably a one other.

To Succeed Senator Voorhees.
ELKHART, Ind., Nov. 7.—Hon. James S. Dodge, of this city, has been announced as a candidate for United States Senator to succeed Senator Daniel W. Voorhees, as a result of the political avalanche in the thirteenth district.

A Fighting Chance in Old Virginia.
RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 8.—Chairman Elyson has received a telegram saying the ninth district has gone for Wheeler, rep., by 700 or 800. He thinks this is probable. The district is certainly republican.

Oklahoma Goes Republican.

OKLAHOMA, Nov. 7.—Almost complete returns for the territory give Flynn, rep., to congress, 8,000 majority. Three-fourths of counties elected republican tickets, and both branches of the legislature will be republican.

Germany Recognizes the Republic of Hawaii.
BERLIN, Nov. 8.—Germany, through Emperor William, replying to President Dole's official notification, has acknowledged the republic of Hawaii.

The Constitutional Amendments Carried.
NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The latest returns from all parts of the state indicate that all of the constitutional amendments have been carried.

Arizona Elects a Republican Delegate.
PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 8.—Returns up to 6 o'clock last evening indicate the election of Murphy, rep., delegate to congress.

FIFTY-FOURTH CONGRESS.

Indications of Its Composition Afforded by the Election Returns.

Latest dispatches indicate that the Fifty-fourth congress will stand as shown in the following table:

STATES.	Democrats.	Republicans.	Populists.	Prohibitionists.	People's Party.
Alabama	3	2
California	3	1
Colorado	1	1
Delaware	1	1
Georgia	1	1
Idaho	1	1
Illinois	1	1
Indiana	1	1
Iowa	1	1
Kansas	1	1
Kentucky	1	1
Louisiana	1	1
Maine	1	1
Massachusetts	1	1
Michigan	1	1
Minnesota	1	1
Mississippi	1	1
Missouri	1	1
Montana	1	1
Nebraska	1	1
Nevada	1	1
New Hampshire	1	1
New Jersey	1	1
New York	1	1
North Carolina	1	1
North Dakota	1	1
Ohio	1	1
Oregon	1	1
Pennsylvania	1	1
South Carolina	1	1
South Dakota	1	1
Texas	1	1
Vermont	1	1
Virginia	1	1
Washington	1	1
West Virginia	1	1
Wisconsin	1	1
Wyoming	1	1
Totals	109	103	3	117

MISSOURI JOINS THE MAJORITY

The Republicans Secure the State Ticket, Legislature and Ten Congressmen.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 7.—A funeral gloom has pervaded the state capital to-day. The result of the election in Missouri staggered Gov. Stone and the democratic administration. The growing uncertainty and doubt all day has depressed them. While this city is regarded as a political center, it is not a political news center, as both of the state committees have headquarters in St. Louis.

News from there comes slowly to-day, but it was 4 p. m. when a message from Chairman Sam Cook of the democratic state committee to Gov. Stone announced both the state ticket and the legislature in doubt. It was read in the executive office, and the news soon scattered throughout the departments. It added to the gloom of the gloom. Gov. Stone had no statement to give to the public. He said in conversation with friends:

"When the vote of this election is analyzed it will be found that two agencies which hurt the democracy were the stay-at-home democrats and the A. P. movement. The democrats stayed away from the polls in large numbers, but the republicans have not increased their vote much."

Secretary of State Lescuyer just returned from Lafayette, where he went to vote. He had nothing to say. The news dumfounded him. No official returns have yet been received by him.

The governor gave up the lower house of the legislature early in the day. Secretary Lescuyer tried to figure up a democratic and populist majority in the house, but the best that he could do was seventy-four, but even that slender hope was knocked out when the results of such democratic counties as Boone, where chairman had elected republican representatives.

Bland has about given up hope. He telegraphed to Maj. T. O. Towles, of this city, this afternoon: "I fear I will hardly pull through. It is close." From reports received here it seems that Harkins, rep., defeated Blum in the eighth district.

COLORADO'S GOVERNOR

Discusses Upon the Result in the Centennial State—The Women Did It.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 8.—In an interview yesterday Gov. Waite said regarding the women vote:

"As to the women vote, that was all against me. Our strength has been in the mining regions, but in those camps women are very scarce. Their influence was principally in the cities, which were so unalterably opposed to me. I believe that is why their vote went so largely against the populists. The women must be educated up to think for themselves, and not be controlled by the money power as the men."

"Do you think, Governor, that the populist party will ever be in a position again to regain power?" was asked.

"I believe they will, but it may be some time. I think it will eventually be done, but I do not know exactly how it will be done. I think we will have to do it right over their heads, however. I advocate this being done in a peaceful manner, if possible, a peaceful revolution."

"Of course, I believe the ballot is the proper method to be employed, but this has not proved efficacious in this state."

Four Killed.
MIDDLEBORO, Ky., Nov. 7.—William Cruz was shot and killed in an election riot in South America, this county, yesterday. Tom Jones, Will Jones and Tom Buchanan were killed by the Somers brothers in an election riot in Wise City, Va., yesterday. The murderers escaped.

Sentinel Hill Declines to Talk.
ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Senator Hill was a his office early this morning and had many callers. He appeared to be in good health, but refused to talk for publication.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

What the Republican Papers Say of the Victory.

DEMOCRACY DOWNED.
"It is a stupendous and glorious victory. All over the country outside of the old slave region the republicans have made wonderful gains. East of the Alleghenies, in the Mississippi valley and in the Rocky mountain locality the republicans are triumphant. Republican majorities which have stood as high as water marks have been surpassed, and districts which for decades have been democratic have been captured by the republicans. The republicans have won a great victory. The spirit of 1860 has returned to the republican party, and again it is enthusiastic and invincible."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Business Men Relieved.
"American manufacturers and merchants and business men generally will draw a long breath of relief. They are safe from molestation during the next congress. They can go on with their business without fear of destructive tariff changes in the near future. They will feel that they do not have to wade through two years of strikes and every other form of industrial discontent. And seeing that the workmen are alive to their real interests this year the business men have reason to hope that the general government will show equal good sense two years hence."

"The democrats have had their day. They have had their spring for two years. They have been given a chance to show how thoroughly they know the arts of government. The experiment has satisfied the country that the republicans are the party of the future, and that the party should resume its old post of critic and censor of the republicans. The democrats have plunged the country into a panic. They have given it a surfeit of hard times. With what face can they after what they have done ask to be given again the control of the general government? Let them be satisfied with bossing Georgia and the other cotton states."—Chicago Tribune.

"It is the nation's vote of confidence in the superior governing and directing qualities of the republican party. It is the direct assertion by the people that, in placing the democratic party in control in 1902, they had no intention of signifying their disapproval of the republican party. The republicans have shown that they are the party of the future, and that the party should resume its old post of critic and censor of the republicans. The democrats have plunged the country into a panic. They have given it a surfeit of hard times. With what face can they after what they have done ask to be given again the control of the general government? Let them be satisfied with bossing Georgia and the other cotton states."—Chicago Tribune.

"It is a great victory. The American people always resist any attempt to put them on the back track. They indignantly return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress and the betterment of social conditions which have been the development of our resources are the outcome of republican policies, and that the party which ever intimated its return to the republican party when anything goes wrong. They do this because they know that the enormous material progress